THINGS YOU NEED TO KNOW ABOUT YOUR STATEMENT

Refer to your Cardholder Agreement for more details, including the definitions of terms you may not be familiar with.

What is a credit limit?

Your credit limit is the maximum amount you (together with your authorized users) can charge to your account. Your current credit limit appears on each monthly statement. Each monthly statement also shows the current cash advance limit. Your cash advance limit is part of your total credit limit - it's not additional credit over and above the credit limit for your account.

What does available credit mean?

Your available credit is the amount of credit that you are able to use for purchases, cash advances and balance transfers. It's usually your total credit limit minus the current balance of your account, minus transactions that have not yet posted to your account.

What is a minimum payment?

Your minimum payment is the lowest amount of money that you're required to pay by the payment due date each month to keep your account from going past due. Past due amounts and any amount of debt which exceeds your credit limit must be paid to us immediately.

How can I avoid or reduce interest charges?

- a) Purchases and standard balance transfers. You can avoid interest charges on new purchases, new standard balance transfers and fees (except for cash advance and special balance transfer fees) by paying off your new balance in full by the payment due date. If you do not pay your new balance in full by the payment due date, we will charge interest on these amounts, starting from the transaction date, until they are paid off. If you reside in Quebec, we will not charge interest on any purchases and standard balance transfers for a billing period where you pay your new balance in full by the payment due date. You can reduce the amount of interest charges that may be assessed by making your payment earlier or increasing the amount of your payment.
- b) Cash advances and special balance transfers. There is no interest-free grace period on cash advances, special balance transfers, their associated fees, and interest charges. Interest on these amounts is charged starting from the transaction date until they're paid off. You can reduce the amount of interest charges that may be assessed by making your payment earlier or increasing the amount of your payment.

NOTE: If a minus sign (-) appears before your new balance, the amount is a credit and will be applied to future transactions.

How do foreign currency transactions work?

We will bill you in Canadian dollars when you use your card to make a transaction in a foreign currency. The transaction amount will be converted to Canadian dollars using the Mastercard rate of exchange applicable at the time the transaction is processed. When the converted transaction amount is posted to your account, we may add to the converted transaction amount a foreign currency conversion charge. If your account is subject to a foreign currency conversion charge, details of the charge are set out in the disclosure statement.

* Exchange rate includes 2.5% currency conversion charge and is truncated to nine decimal places.

If a foreign currency transaction is refunded to your account, the exchange rate for the refund may not be the same as the rate used when the original purchase was processed. As a result, the amount of the purchase and the refund may differ.

How do I dispute a statement error?

You are responsible for all transactions that appear on your monthly statement. If you have problems with anything you buy using your card or account number, you must pay the amount owing on your account and settle the problem directly with the merchant. If you think your statement has an error, you can contact us at 1-800-481-3239 or write to us at Capital One Customer Service, P.O. Box 503, Stn. D, Scarborough, ON M1R 5L1. Please include in the letter your name and account number, the dollar amount of the suspected error, and an explanation of why you believe this is an error. You must contact us within 30 days of receiving your statement.

What if I have more questions?

Visit capitalone.ca/mycard or call us at 1-800-481-3239 if you have any questions about your monthly statement or your account - we're available 24/7. You can also call us collect at 1-804-934-2010 if you are outside of Canada or the U.S.

How do I submit a complaint?

If you have a customer service complaint or any other concern, you can call us at 1-800-481-3239, or write to us at Capital One Customer Service, P.O. Box 503, Stn. D, Scarborough, ON M1R 5L1. Visit capitalone.ca/concerns for our current complaint resolution process.

If your concerns are regarding our compliance with federal consumer protection law, public commitments, or industry codes of conduct, you can contact the Financial Consumer Agency of Canada at its office at 427 Laurier Avenue West, 6th Floor, Ottawa, ON K1R 1B9, or through its website at fcac-acfc.gc.ca.

Payable through online and telephone banking at most financial institutions, including CIBC, RBC, BMO, TD, Scotiabank, HSBC and National Bank. If paying online, search "Capital One Mastercard". You can also mail your payment to Capital One Bank (Canada Branch), P.O. Box 521, Stn. D, Scarborough, ON M1R 5S4. Please don't send cash through the mail or staple a cheque to this payment slip. Also, make sure to write your 16-digit account number on your cheque or money order, and allow several days for postal delivery.
